SUBJECT: Selected Targets in North Vietnam

1. After rechecking carefully the text and list of selected targets in the published version of the subject study we have found a few minor errors as listed in the attachment hereto. At this stage in the use of the report the errors are not important. If the use of the report should reach the action stage, however, it may be important to have these errors corrected.

2. The most I think you may wish to do at this time would be to inform Mr. Evans by telephone that there are a few minor errors in the precise locations of some of the targets, and that the correct locations of these targets can be furnished if this information is needed.
